Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine has anything been so widely and widely relied upon with confidence and entire. This is a reliable remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the nations of the earth, it has been a household word. Its uniform character and power have won for the Cherry Pectoral the confidence of the public, and the affection of those who have made it known its invaluable power in curing them. While adapted to subdue the severest and most dangerous of human ailments, it is at the same time the most efficacious and pleasant of all medicines. Its mild and healing influence soothes and heals the tender lungs of children, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. Any one knowing that Sudden attacks of croup should be kept on hand in every family, and that colds and coughs, sometimes slighted for trifles, are dangerous, and should be promptly and effectually cured, will, we hope, profit by this suggestion.

Asthma is always relieved, and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So do we readily use the various kinds that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Mercury, Zinc, morphine, or other poisonous substance whatever, it can be administered with perfect safety to the most delicate invalid, or young infant of tender years. Its wonderful efficacy in the cure of the most obstinate and dangerous forms of disease, has caused it to be regarded by the medical profession, and by the public, as a specific for the diseases for which it is recommended, and to be the most reliable medicine known to the sufferer from those fearful scourges, the Fever and Ague, Intermittent, Remittent, and Bilious Fevers, which are the terror of those who reside in the malarious districts of our country. Protected by its virtues, the hardy pioneer may now penetrate the most fever-breeding wilds, and the miner may delve in the mineral deposits of the most pestilential regions, without fear of the disease which has been the bane of all previous adventurers in these unhealthy localities. Ague and Fever, and other diseases which have been their concomitant, have been the terror of those who have been compelled to reside in these localities. Now, we have the means of overcoming the effects of the poison which has been so fatal to life and health in these localities. We do not say that it will prevent the contraction of the poison, but we say that it will cure the diseases which are the result of it, even in the most aggravated forms.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR,

For the Renovation of the Hair.

THE GREAT DESIDERATUM OF THE AGE.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the glow and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed, but such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a gummy sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it, if wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Combining neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

HAIR DRESSING,

"Is This a Time of War?"

The Conservatives of Virginia having swept the State, it is now given out that Radicalism is at work to use, through the military power the will of the people solemnly expressed at the ballot-box. It is said that General Canby will require the members elect of the Legislature to take the Iron-clad oath, and in case of their refusal to do so, he will give their seats to the candidates whom they defeated.—This, the Radicals think, will give them the Legislature, and consequently two more United States Senators of the carpet-bag persuasion.

This would be one of the most sweeping outrages yet committed by the party of corruption and tyranny. The degree of duplicity involved can hardly be expressed.

Before the Virginia election President Grant declared that the iron-clad oath would not be required of the successful candidates. In formally instructing a General in Louisiana, he expressly said that he had so instructed Canby in Virginia. His words were these:

I repeat to you, as heretofore, that the members of the Louisiana Legislature are only required to take the oath prescribed by their Constitution, and ARE NOT REQUIRED to take the test oath prescribed in the Reconstruction Acts. Generals Meade and Canby are acting on this view of the case.

(Signed,) U. S. GRANT.

These little mean devices may succeed in deferring for a little while the day of final retribution; but this is all they can do; for it will surely come at last, and with a pent up strength which will annihilate the Republican party. That party has lost forever all chance of securing power in a single Southern State by the will of the people, and its career in the North is fast drawing to a close. Its doom is written and its fate is sealed.

The dose preparing for Virginia is too odious for even Grcoly to endorse. He says in the Tribune:

We protest against this programme as involving perfidy, iniquity, and a most stupendous blunder. The only party that can be learned by it is (as in Georgia) that which conceived and executes it. We have an overwhelming Republican majority in the Senate, so that there is not even the poor, rascally excuse of necessity for perpetrating it. It is calculated to alienate the Walker Republicans permanently from the National party and give to Democrats such an advantage everywhere as the Georgia blunder gave us last Fall. It is a resort prompted by the mortification of defeat; but the Republicans of the whole country cannot afford to sacrifice themselves on the altar of Wells' discomfiture.

No doubt, a cunning lawyer can make out a case in favor of the proposed proscription, as he can in favor of almost anything; but we all know that the Government just constituted in Virginia is in no proper sense provisional, such as was contemplated in the Reconstruction acts where they prescribe the "iron clad" oath. It is created by the largest vote ever polled in the State, though some thousands of the leading "Conservatives" were denied the Right of Suffrage because of the aid they gave to the Rebellion. The voters were just those whom Congress has seen fit to make such; the issues were well canvassed and understood; the election was peaceful, and the result is unquestioned.

Congress authorized and the President directed the separate submission; and the people had a fair right to presume that, since they were expressly required to decide whether they would or would not have Proscription for Rebellion's sake perpetuated, the decision was to be respected, at least so far as regards their own domestic government. To overrule that decision at the outset, and thus force the choice of Senators obnoxious to the ascertained majority, will be a crime and blunder at war with the very corner-stone of Republicanism.

And the New York Herald implies that SUCH THINGS BE, CANBY?—That while the respect of France is opening the prison doors to political offenders, and granting universal amnesty to other classes of prisoners, can it be that you, Canby, in this free Republic, have the conscience to insist upon the rigid application of a form of oath—giving your own interpretation thereto, by the way—that was only intended for proscription at a certain political period, now long since passed and gone? Verily, there seems to be more justice and moderation in imperial France than in Republican Virginia under Grevale, Canby!

The N. Y. Commercial Advertiser, also Republican, asks:

"Does it sound rather funny to talk of a General allowing the Legislature of Virginia to do this, that and the other thing?" There used to be a principle (now defunct and musty) that in times of peace the military was subordinate to the civil power. Is this a time of war?"

Democrats of Pennsylvania—of Adams county—rally as one man to defeat and crush an organization as infamous as the Radical party has everywhere proven itself to be. Down with it! To let it longer live is to invoke imperialism or ruin—or both—upon the country.

THE RECORD OF A DYING PARTY.—In 1856, when Buchanan was elected President, the Democratic vote was 1,838,029. In 1860, the combined vote of Douglass and Breckinridge was 2,223,710. In 1864, the vote for McClellan, without the vote of any of the Southern States, was 1,797,019. In 1868, the vote for Seymour was 2,709,028, almost a million larger than the vote for Buchanan in 1856, and 486,097 more than the vote for Lincoln in 1864. This will do very well for a dead party. The people are gradually coming back to their first love and the support of the old Democratic faith—the Union of the States and the rights of the States; a Union of equal States upon the basis of the Constitution.—Detroit Free Press.

"ALL THE INTELLIGENCE."—The letter "Glory to gold" Covode wrote to Attorney General Brewster at the instance of Geary, requesting that officer to resign, was, doubtless, corrected by Judge Williams before it was forwarded. The letter, as it originally appeared from the Alligator's graphic pen, is said to have been as follows:

THE TIDE TURNING.

The political tide is turning. In all sections of the Union, says the Age, men are abandoning the ultra Radical party and looking for safer ground on which to stand. They are afraid to follow Boutwell and Butler any longer. They see where the teachings of such demagogues will end—how the government will be changed if their notions are adopted instead of the plain letter and spirit of the Constitution. These considerations have born good fruit in the North, and are now operating in the Southwest and South in a like cheering manner. Virginia defeated Wells, the ultra Radical candidate for Governor, and elected a Legislature which will strike the shackles from the limbs of white men, and rebuild the broken fortunes of that old State. In Alabama the Conservatives have inflicted a death blow upon the party of proscription, and elected to Congress some of the best men in the State. These representatives will place before the body of which they are members, and the whole country, the true condition of affairs in that section of the Union, and plead for the adoption of a policy calculated to benefit the people and improve the business condition of the South. Tennessee has also aimed her vote against further encroachments upon the liberties and rights of the people. Sevier has defeated Stokes, although the latter was endorsed by two members of General Grant's Cabinet—Boutwell and Cresswell. The people of Tennessee, like those of the nation, are tired of political humbugs. They want repose and freedom from political agitation in order to cultivate the soil, sell goods, bring back the days of plenty, peace and contentment. There are, also, strong conservative movements in Mississippi and Texas, headed by men of standing and ability, and from the action of Virginia, Alabama and Tennessee, it is fair to conclude that in those States the tide will also turn and leave the black-flag ship of Radicalism stranded on the beach.

The important question is, how can we in Pennsylvania take this tide in such a manner as to be led on to fortune? The answer is by flying the flag of principle always at the mast-head, and choosing as captains and leaders the best men of the State. The people are tired of Geary and the "ring" which has ruled him and the State. Thousands of moderate men, who, during the war, drifted from their old moorings into opposition to the Democratic party, are now prepared to return. They can no longer act in concert with a party which, in a time of peace, keeps the national and State expenses up to war figures.—Farmers are beginning to feel the pressure of the times. They are no longer getting war prices for wheat, corn, oats and other products, and still the tax-gatherer comes to collect money for a corrupt and dissolute Congress to waste upon its pets and favorites. Mechanics and workingmen also feel the pinch of the times. Get what they may for their work, still expenses take the last dollar, and leave nothing for sickness or want of employment. Men are beginning to see the real causes of this undesirable state of affairs, and they are prepared to act with the Democratic party at this turning of the tide. All things are propitious. We have on the State ticket men above and beyond reproach. Asa Packer is just the man for the crisis. Honest, calm, clear-headed, able to grasp all business questions and settle them in a proper manner, he will manage the affairs of the State as he has his own, and with a like happy result. Mr. Pershing, our candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court, is entitled to the fullest confidence of the people. His elevation to the bench will be a proper rebuke to the Radical party for their effort to place a republican on the bench of the supreme judicial tribunal of this Commonwealth. All that is needed then is to put Pennsylvania in the full drift of the turning tide is fidelity and earnestness on the part of the Democratic party at this crisis, and those elements of success we invoke at this time.

THE following article, taken from the Norristown Independent, a strong Radical paper, indicates the general sentiment of the better informed Republican politicians as to Geary's chance for re-election, and shows how little hope they have RADICALS admit that John Wolford was nominated for the Legislature because of his wealth. Let us hear no more from them about Asa Packer on that score. The latter, however, has more than money.

THE water supply in the large cities is running very short, and some uneasiness is felt in consequence. The water is now forced into Fairmount Reservoir, Philadelphia, by steam fire engines, the Schuylkill being too low to allow the old machinery to do it.

IT is force against force. Samuel Wolf says he was "forced" into the Radical candidacy for Sheriff by the Radical leaders, of course. Let the people "force" the other way elect Jacob Klunk—and thus relieve Mr. Wolf. If the latter spoke truth before Wednesday week, he will rejoice at such a result.

SAMUEL HERBST was nominated for County Treasurer by the Republican Convention last Monday, though announced on Friday before as an "independent" candidate. What caused this change of tactics? Was there danger of his not getting the full Republican vote under the "independent" announcement?

THIS brings strange changes. Col. John Wolford, in the Radical Convention, on Monday, declared that he wasn't fit for the Legislature—and he was nominated. Thaddeus Stevens said the same thing of and for him thirty years ago—and then he was not nominated. Thaddeus's word used to go a good deal further than Wolford's does now.

As a prominent Republican declared on Monday afternoon, the ticket nominated that day in the Court-house was all "Black Republican—nothing else." The fight is now a square one—the Democracy for the white man on one side, and the Radicals for the negro on the other. White men, which will you support? The question is plain, and the issue made up. A vote for a Radical candidate is a vote for negro suffrage, negro jurors, negro office-holders—negro equality in everything!

A WASHINGTON correspondent says: Mr. John Covode came to this city a few days ago to ask Mr. Delano to keep his hands off the whisky ring in Pennsylvania, at least until after the October election, otherwise he feared disaster to the Republican party of the State. This was a candid and free admission of one of two things, either that the whisky ring controlled the Geary party of the State, or that it was so much a part and parcel of that party that to cut off its influence would be almost certain death. But Mr. Delano will not keep his hands off. He informed Mr. Covode that he was determined to enforce the law at all hazards, and without regard to consequences, political, personal or otherwise. If it dammed the Republican party, he could not help it, for he was determined to stop the frauds upon the revenue, if possible, and he knew of no agency that was doing so much for fraud as the said whisky ring. Mr. Covode returned home considerably disappointed. The fact is that Mr. Delano is determined to be thoroughly honest and law-abiding in the management of his department, and the country will applaud his course. The commissioner is determined to hold officers everywhere to the strictest accountability.

"FORCE WORK" is not only unpleasant to the victim—it is wrong, and especially to be deprecated in a land of "universal liberty." The Radical leaders here have just been guilty of an act of the kind, which we think is a duty to hold up to public reprehension.

Samuel Wolf, ex-Commissioner, for months up to last week declared that he would not run for Sheriff. He did not believe he could get Democratic votes enough to elect him, and if he could, the office would not pay him—it would be too great a sacrifice to leave his lime business, worth three times as much as the Sheriffalty. He wouldn't come out under any circumstances—not he!

He came to town on Wednesday of last week—a private caucus was held—the thing talked over and, presto! Mr. Wolf is announced as a candidate!

"How's that?" was generally asked—and the poor land-like victim declared he was "forced"—couldn't help it.—was "forced"—to come out!

What an outrage on the part of the Radical leaders! Have they no reason—no humanity? This is a free country, and a man ought to have the right to do as he pleases. How could they be so unpatriotic—so cruel—as to resort to "force work?" And to Samuel Wolf too, whom they professed so much friendship for?

There is but one way to resent this wrong—but an effective one. Let Mr. Wolf appeal to the people for redress. He didn't, he all along said, want to be Sheriff, under any circumstances—it would be disastrous to his interests to have the office. Let him say so to his real friends—repeat it over and over to them—and then ask and urge them to vote for his opponent, (Jacob Klunk,) and thus enable him (Wolf) to head off this "forcing" design of the leaders of his party. He owes it to his own character for veracity, to his own self respect, to do all he can for the election of Mr. Klunk. In this way only can he prove a claim to consistency—whilst he will at the same time help to rebuke a bold and impudent attempt to "force" so unpromitable a berth as the Sheriffalty upon an unwilling man. Mr. Wolf, go to work for Klunk, and "save your bacon!"

ARMY REUNION.

Large Assemblage of Officers—Pleasant Meetings—Speeches and Incidents of the Battle Talked Over—The Field thoroughly Traversed, and Interesting Points Marked.

The Reunion of officers who participated in the battle of Gettysburg, announced for the present week, has drawn to our town a large number of strangers, giving it an appearance of life and stir rarely to be witnessed. Many who were separated by the disbandment of the armies at the close of the war, met here for the first time since. The greetings between them were of course warm and heart-felt.

Col. Batchelder, who is an active and thorough worker, resolved that the Reunion should be a success, and so far as his share of the labor controlled, it was entirely so. The many compliments the Col. has received during the week demonstrate a high appreciation of his energy and effectiveness, but no more than deserved.

The noon train on Monday brought thirty or more officers, some accompanied by their wives. They were conveyed by car to the Springs Hotel, which had previously been selected as headquarters.

At 2 P. M. a still larger number arrived. [The promised "reception" was a sham affair. The Gettysburg and Frank'in Zouaves, with the Cornet Band, turned out—but that was all. If the town had been consulted, as it should have been, in a public meeting called for the purpose, a universal movement on the part of our citizens to join in the demonstration, would doubtless have resulted. But "the Secretary of the Memorial Association" undertook to run the concern, in detail and general, himself, and therefore the "reception" missed fire.]

The arrivals for the day included, of the First Corps, Generals Meredith, Hoffman, Robinson, Dana and Leonard, Colonels Dudley, Heidkoeper and Deckart, Majors J. M. Lindley, Sinclair and Amawalt. Of the Third Corps, Generals Graham, Berlin and Medill; Colonels Bonafon, Burns and Linard. Of the Fifth Corps, General McCandless, Colonel Rickets. Of the Eleventh Corps, General Von Amsberg, Colonel A. S. Musser, Major J. A. Fincastle. Of the Twelfth Corps, Generals Kane and James C. Selfridge, Majors Humphrey and A. W. Selfridge. Besides the above, Majors Dalquith and Hunter, and others, for two Confederate officers arrived, Col. Harrison, Adjutant General of Pickett's Division, and Col. Allen, of the Seventh Tennessee.

The following is from Gen. R. E. Lee's reply to the invitation of the Board:

"My engagements will not permit me to be present. I believe, if there, I could not add anything material to the information existing on that subject. I think it wiser, however, not to keep open the sores of war, but to follow the examples of those nations who endeavored to obliterate the marks of civil strife, and to commit to oblivion the feelings it engendered."

General Fitz Hugh Lee said, in reply to the invitation extended to him, which letter was sent through General R. E. Lee:

"It will not be in my power to be present, but any information I possess will be cheerfully rendered. If the nation is to be continued as a whole, it is better to forget and forgive, rather than to perpetuate in granite the proof of its civil wars."

A meeting of officers was held at the Springs Hotel on Monday evening—"The Next Day of the Memorial Association," D. McConaughy, taking the chair, although one of the Vice Presidents, R. G. McCreary, Esq., was in attendance.] Various suggestions were made as to the plan of operations, and a full interchange of views had. The programme submitted by the "Secretary" was set aside, and that of Col. Batchelder adopted, viz: On Tuesday the positions of the first day's battle to be gone over. On Wednesday, Culp's Hill, Cemetery Hill and vicinity. On Thursday, the positions on the left, including the Apple Orchard, Peach Orchard, Wheatfield, Round Top, and intermediate points. Friday, the general lines of the third days' battle, and on Saturday the cavalry operations.

Among the arrivals later in the evening were General Switzer and Major Walters, both of the Fifth Corps, and Captain De Castle, of the Signal Corps.

The newspaper press is well represented, correspondents from all the principals cities being on hand—as well as Mr. Gabright, of the Associated Press, Washington. Mr. Dutcher is here for the New York World.

Another large arrival of officers on Tuesday, among them: Of the First Corps, Generals Newton, Stone, Wistar, Stannard, Coulter and Baxter; Second Corps, Generals Baxter and Owen, and Colonel Barnes; Third Corps, Colonel Duff; Six Corps, Generals Howe, Shaler and Collier, and Majors Samuel and A. M. Harker; Eleventh Corps, General Steinwehr; Twelfth Corps, Generals Slocum, Geary, Green and Barnum—with others.

At a meeting of the officers on Tuesday morning, on motion of Gen. Meredith, Col. Batchelder was unanimously chosen to take charge of the exercises of the day, as he had collected more information on the subject than any one present.

The party then repaired to the field for the purpose of definitely fixing the positions of the troops in the first day's battle. Among those who composed the party were Gens. Meredith, Dana, Robinson, Leonard, Fowler, Coiter and Hoffman, and Colonels Heid, Corper, Dudley, Sheaffer and Lindlay, who were all participants in that fight. A short-hand reporter accompanied them, to make notes of the conferences.

Of course many incidents of interest were talked over as the party passed from point to point. The roads by which the troops advanced and retired, their positions during the fight, the lines of the rebels, &c., were all carefully noted. The places where prominent officers fell or were wounded were designated. One of the most interesting localities was that in which Gen. Reynolds fell, a tree with the letter R carved upon it showing where he died.

Gen. Meredith expressed the opinion that Gen. Reynolds received his wound several rods northeast of the point indicated. He was in the vicinity at the time with his brigade.

Lieut. Tardie, of the Engineer Corps, who has charge of the Battle-field Survey, personally superintends the driving of the stakes to mark the several positions.

Wednesday was spent on Cemetery Hill and Culp's Hill, consuming most of the day in examining the many points presented.

Wednesday's arrivals embraced Generals Fowler, Gates, Webb, Chamberlain, Hunt, Hall, Serrell and Boynton; Colonels Jackson, Smithe Harlborne, Boone and Irwin; Majors Moore and Reily; Captains J. Watson and J. R. Paxton—with several others.

On Wednesday night a "grand hop" came off at the Springs Hotel. The assemblage of "fair women and brave men" was one of the largest and most brilliant ever had in this region; and the music, furnished by the Harrisburg Orchestra, was just such as the occasion demanded—incomparable. Those fond of the mazy dance were on the top wave of enjoyment, and kept it up until the small hours of morning suggested repose.

Yesterday the officers concerned were engaged in examining the lines on the left, the Round Tops, Peach Orchard, &c., and to-day will look up the general lines of the third day's battle; to-morrow the ground covered by the cavalry operations.

Gov. Geary, with a few others, left in a special train on Wednesday evening. Yesterday morning quite a number took their departure—and a few more at noon. All seemed to experience great pleasure at meeting so many old friends and companions in arms, and regret that their time together was necessarily short.

THE Radical County Convention met in the Court-house on Monday. Three or four of the districts were not represented, and the outside attendance was small. With a few exceptions, nobody seemed to manifest any interest in the proceedings.

John Burkholder presided; Vice-Presidents John Cunningham and F. Baber; Secretaries John M. Krauth and I. N. Durborow. After receiving credentials of delegates, and appointing a committee on resolutions, (Dr. Valentine, chairman,) preliminary nominations were made—and the concern adjourned for dinner.

At 4 P. M. the Convention reassembled, and proceeded to ballot for candidates. R. G. Harper received the nomination for Assembly Judge, having 25 votes, to 19 for Wm. S. Hamilton, who did not want it.

John Wolford, of Latimore, was successful for Assembly, "slaughtering" Capt. H. N. Minnich, who had 4 votes, Dr. Diller, 5 votes, and Wm. Young, 6 votes.

Samuel Wolf, ex-Commissioner, having been "forced," on Wednesday before, by the caucus of Radical leaders, was "victimized" with the Sheriffalty. So thoroughly had the thing been cooked up, and so emphatically endorsed in the Star of Friday, that Jacob Mickley, one of the most hard-working party men in the county, received but 2 votes. There was no show for Jacob after Wednesday's work. His "slaughter" was then decreed.

Jacob Rubley was nominated for Register and Recorder—heaven he resides in Arendtsville, the same town in which Mr. Swope, the Democratic nominee, lives. But he had 38 votes, to 6 for Balzer Snyder.

Eden Norris, of Straban, (who, like Barkis, is always "willin',") was put up for Clerk of the Courts, without opposition.

For Commissioner Samuel Overholtzer, of Hampton, was chosen. He received 35 votes, to 9 for Jacob Y. Bachey. Mr. O. has at last his ambition for the cheap honor of a nomination gratified.

The run for Director was given to Adam C. Musselman, of Fairfield; for Auditor to W. G. Scott, of Freedom, by acclamation; and for Coroner to Dr. Agidious Need, of Mountpleasant, in the same way.

The resolutions were read and adopted and the convention adjourned, after a session of not over an hour and a quarter. There was no stir—no enthusiasm—no nothing; it was flat—all flat—a sort of up-hill going through the motions, without spirit, because without hope.

The resolutions, we understand, are clap-trap and fraudulent. The Fifteenth (negro voting) Amendment is a leading, the leading, party issue. Passed by a Republican Congress, ratified by a Republican Legislature, and endorsed by the Republican press, (the Star included,) its acceptance as a plank is no longer to be decently avoided. But we understand that this overshadowing question was entirely stricken on Monday, and that the resolutions make no mention of it. If so, another fraud upon the people of Adams county is intended. It shall not be perpetrated, if we can prevent it.

The Radical ticket is now in the field—and it is all Radical, from top to bottom. The two parties are therefore distinctly arrayed, as heretofore, Democrats, to your guns, and strike for the biggest victory yet achieved!

THE OCTOBER ELECTIONS.—We invite attention to the recent Radical changes in the election laws. The Legislature, at its last session, passed an act entitled "An act further supplemental to the act relative to the elections in this Commonwealth," and approved by the Governor on the 17th day of April last. The fifteenth section of this act abolishes the spring elections, and requires all elections hereafter to be held on the second Tuesday of October. That no misapprehension may exist, we here give said section in full, as follows:

"SECTION 15. All elections for city, ward, borough, town, township and election officers shall hereafter be held on the second Tuesday of October, subject to all the provisions of the laws regulating the election of such officers not inconsistent with this act; the persons elected to such offices at that time shall take their places at the expiration of the terms of the persons holding the same at the time of such election; but no election for the office of assessor or assistant assessor shall be held under this act, until the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy."

It is, therefore, the duty of the people at the next October election, to elect all the city, ward, borough, township, and election officers (except assessors), which would have been chosen at the elections in 1870, had the said act of 17th April, 1869, not been passed.

We regard this as a matter of great public importance, and take this method of inviting general attention to it.

THE Headquarters of the Democratic State Central Committee have been established at the Rooms of the Democratic Association, corner of Ninth and Arch streets, Philadelphia. The new Chairman has entered upon the campaign with vigor, and with the brightest hopes of success.

HON. JOHN QUINCY ADAMS has been nominated for Governor by the Democrats of Massachusetts. He accepts, and will take the field vigorously against Radicalism. Radical papers already acknowledge that their majority will be greatly reduced in that State.

AMONG the issues of the pending campaign are hard times, money scarce, low prices for the farmers' products, high taxes, and plundering of the government by its officials. A Radical victory will continue the present condition of affairs.

Local Department.

TODAY, EIGHT AND EXPERIENCED COUNTERS.

Horses Stolen.—We hear that three horses were recently stolen in Littlestown and neighborhood, and that two of them have been recovered. No particulars.

Camp Meeting.—The colored Camp Meeting in Wolf's grove, near this place, is still in progress, and will probably continue until the middle of next week. The collection of persons on the ground on Sunday was very large, as it no doubt will be next Sunday.

Excursion Train for Camp Meeting.—An excursion train will leave Hanover next Sunday morning, at 9 o'clock, to accommodate persons desirous of attending the camp meeting near this place—and return in the evening at 9 o'clock. Fare from Hanover and back 75 cents, New Oxford 50 cents, and Golden's and Granite 25 cents. Tickets must be procured before entering the cars, or full fare will be charged.

Gutta Percha Pen.—We acknowledge the present of a very superior pen from our friend and former townsman, Mr. Keller Kurtz, now and for several years of the city of New York. The pen is made of gutta percha, tipped with gold. In shape it resembles the old-fashioned quill pen, and is as pleasant to write with as the best of that class used to be. It is manufactured for the house of Kurtz & Monaghan by the Goodyear Company, and is warranted, we believe, for six months. Sold in this place by A. D. Buehler only. We advise all children of a good temper, and who is not?—to try the gutta percha.

Frightful Accident.—On Sunday morning last an accident which might have had a frightful look occurred to Mr. Cornelius W. Miller and family, of New Oxford. They were on their way to the camp meeting near this place, and when opposite Golden's Station, the passing of the excursion train so frightened the horses (accustom him to run away, upsetting and badly breaking the buggy, and throwing Mr. Miller, wife and two children upon the turnpike. Mrs. Miller was considerably bruised, and one of the children was reported dead, but we are glad to learn that it specedily revived, and, though bruised, received no serious hurts. Mr. Miller came to the lines as soon as possible, on the frightened animal broke away from him, jumping over a farm gate into a field to the other.

Arrested for Larceny.—Officer Forney, yesterday morning, arrested a man giving his name as Lutz, and residing from Lebanon, this city, upon the charge of being concerned in the larceny of a coat from Joseph A. Heamler, of Mountjoy township. It seems that last week three strangers came to Mr. H's. house and offered him an agency for the sale of "the celebrated Ethiopic Horse Hay Forks, manufactured by Shenk, Ingle & Co., Lebanon, Pa." It was agreed that he should have Mountjoy, Cumberland, Freedom and Hamiltonban townships, and Mr. Heamler says that he signed duplicate agreements therefor, but no note. Lutz was not one of the party making the agreement, but stood to dispose of the note a day or two ago. The other three seem to have disappeared suddenly. Lutz was taken before Justice Cover, and in default of $500 bail, was sent to jail.

Death of Joseph Lilly, Esq.—We are pained to hear of the death of our friend, Joseph Lilly, Esq., of Mountpleasant township, this county, which occurred, week before last, at Indianapolis, Indiana, whither he had gone in quest of health. A telegraphic dispatch received a few days before advised the family of his sickly condition, and his son Henry and nephew Edward Reilly at once proceeded to Indianapolis. They found him still alive, but death soon occurred. The body was embalmed, and brought home; and on Thursday, the 12th, the interment at Conewago Chapel took place, attended by a large number of sorrowing relatives and attached friends.

The deceased was universally esteemed; none knew him but to praise him; none named him but to praise. A charitable, upright, intelligent and honorable man, a devoted husband and kind father, his loss is mourned not only by the dear and dear to him, but by the entire community also. May he rest in peace!

Burglary.—On Wednesday night or last week a thief entered the dwelling of Mr. Gideon Baugher, in Menallen township, whilst the family was asleep, and took about $12 from the pocket of Mr. B's. pantaloons, which were hanging on the bed post or near by. The papers in a desk were disturbed, evidently in the search for money, but none was there secured. How the thief entered is not known, as the doors were all found locked in the morning.

The same night a person entered the house of Mr. Henry Engelman, probably a mile up the creek, no doubt with the same intent. Mrs. Engelman awoke just as the thief entered their sleeping room, when he stopped, the two gazing at each other. A prompt effort on her part to wake Mr. Engelman induced the thief to leave the premises very quickly. From marks on the key in one of the doors, it is supposed that entrance was effected by turning the key in the lock from the outside with a pair of nippers. It is inferred that the thief walked from Baugher's to Engelman's in a new pair of gum shoes, No. 9, as the prints of such shoes were distinctly seen in the dust on the road next morning.

Suicide in Shippensburg.—About two weeks ago Cornelius Van Lowering was found hanging to a cross-beam in the stable loft of Mr. David Criswell, of the above place. He was a native of Holland and house-painter by trade. The deceased was about forty years of age, sober and industrious in his habits. It is supposed that he was robbed of a considerable sum of money recently, and committed the rash act from a depressed state of mind.

Dr. Shoppe Sentenced to be Hung.—Dr. Shoppe, tried and convicted of the murder of Miss Sheinecke, at Carlisle, was last week sentenced by the Court to be hanged—the Governor to fix the day. During the delivery of the sentence, Wm. Gould, the Court Crier, an old man, dropped dead.

Great Surprise.—In passing Arnold's Old Corner, the other day, we were surprised at the change. Norris has "changed his base" to this corner, and is surprising everybody that visits him by his large and cheap lot of Clothing, Hats, Caps, Boots and Shoes. Give him a call. tf

LOCALS IN BRIEF.

—The October battle is about to open, Democrats, to work at once, for the largest majority the county has yet given.

—For fifty cents we will send the Compiler three months to accommodate campaign subscribers.

—Marketing is fairly on our streets.

—The election for township and borough officers will be held on the second Tuesday of October next. We would suggest to our friends in the different districts that they make their nominations early—like our fore-fathers before the election.

—Editorial and other political matter on first page.

—Don't forget that the County Fair will be held Sept. 23, 24 and 25.—Preparation for the exhibition should begin in all quarters.

—Rain is needed as we write—Tuesday morning—and still our region has been greatly favored over many others, in which little or no rain has fallen for months. In portions of Virginia the trees even are dying for the want of water.

—The "dog days" are gone—and the mosquitoes have come.

—Samuel Weiland says he has been "forced" to run for Sheriff. How? With force of arms? What right have the Radical leaders to "force" the man?

—Wait a year hence, and the next County Fair should be the best yet held.

—Most of our farmers are now ready to sow wheat—some quite early. Early seeding is best, when flies out of fear.

—Brick Lime for the Gettysburg Railroad during the week ditto for the spring forward.

—The flies have been dying in our streets since Monday, poisoned by officers in the battle-ground, no doubt.

—It is said the application of salt on growing cabbage in dry weather will arrest its growth. Who has tried it?

—Henry Shultz is building a hack here in Franklin town-ship.

—Capt. H. N. Rehmeyer is about to erect a large brick house on Carlisle street.

—C. B. Young has just completed a fine carriage for Chargeron Good, of Cumberland township.

—The "incendiary" device of the Radical leaders "worked well," Tom Sides is.

—Wine, "pure" and unadulterated, by the gallon, can be had at Bob's.

—The rats for bad luck water in Gettysburg.

—Ladies must have lots of children in order to make up the share given them by Radical leaders.

—Mr. Andrew Wolford, of Fairfield, places up a card in behalf of a colored wishing to rent a farm. The widow Lucas is the person. The Yankee is a very good grower, and one the new man will do well to hire to. He, however, is convinced of this matter only after a trial of his skill in the use of the rebel Yankee.

Mr. Daniel Lefever, of Freedom township, places up a card in behalf of very poor boarders, including a family of nine orphan children. Kind, wealthy farmers and Christian people, and Mr. Jacob Kline, of the same township, a rather backed of boarders, six large, and including a family of nine grown upon his farm, will take them and a half peopled. These would have our thanks.

Another curiosity in the Canada line has been contributed by Mr. Samuel Lentz, being a bunch of sixteen, large and small, grown on one hook, and weighing six and a half pounds.

Tried at Adams Term of Quarter Sessions, for Offences committed in the County.—The Grand Jury of the Delaware County, on Tuesday afternoon, the case of Adam Tiles, on trial for the murder of Benjamin Tiles, in the "Flats," near Shippensburg, last winter, was called up for an adjourned court of Oyer and Terminer. Tiles pleaded guilty, and under our Act of Assembly it then devolved upon the court to determine the degree of the offence. After hearing the testimony and the argument of counsel, the court pronounced the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree. The District Attorney then moved that the court impose the sentence of the law. Tiles was asked if he had anything to say why the sentence of death should not be pronounced upon him. He replied that after the sentence was passed he would say a few words. The court then pronounced the sentence in the following words: "The sentence of the law is that you, Adam Tiles, be taken by the Sheriff to the jail of Cumberland county, from whence you came, and there be hanged by the neck, until you are dead—and may God have mercy on your soul!" His name was already called while pronouncing the sentence.

The prisoner then stated that he had been found guilty of murder in the first degree, but he took his life but half seven a body against him, when she said to him, "Adam, you have killed Jacob." He replied that he had intended to do so, but he could not help it. He recalled his sister, who had gone to the house, and told her to go home. He had no intention of killing Jacob when he went to the house, but he was so provoked at the boy that he could not help it. He had intended to go to Pittsburg, but was arrested at Harrisburg. He had no money when he left home, but had borrowed some from his sister. He was sorry for what he had done, but could not help it. He hoped his sister would be taken care of.

The sentence then was read.

Tiles seemed to be very much affected by the sentence. He seemed to be very much affected by the sentence. He seemed to be very much affected by the sentence. He

The Portland Press shows its political and geographical knowledge by saying that Mr. D. W. Voorhees is a candidate for Governor of Ohio. That Mr. Pendleton is a good enough Democrat for Governor of Ohio already and that Mr. Voorhees lives in Indiana are facts which have not penetrated the Maine mind, so out it is put upon the mere chance.

REV. DR. FORD has a song made from the golden spike which "drove" home the last tie on the Union Pacific Railroad. Quite appropriate following this announcement will be chronicled the existence of another alleged similar thing to be driven until the old man California

Farm and Garden.

Deep Culture in Relation to the Retention of Moisture & Arable Lands.

Deep digging trenching and subsoil plowing, says the Tribune (Scientific Farmer), are the means for preserving the moisture in the soil during dry and drought. There is not wanting many evidences that the several acts of husbandry stated under this head are advantageous on every description of land, even the most water logged fields. But draining is a sine qua non on such fields, an operation too frequently discrepatively defined by Major McLaury as 'underground irrigation.' "I consider it as a "the most effective system to let the water down and water to run freely through the soil with their dissolving and fertilizing properties" I noted today and day during the operation every much contained to one channel of soil, namely, where it is neither dry to wet (speaking in common phrase words) and subsequently the laws of composition and decomposition have full play and their effects are diffused throughout the whole mass of soil. In an essay published several years since, for which the Marquis of Tweeddale offered a prize, it was said "that in every instance drainage gave a decided advantage in the increase of temperature, especially in summer, when a heavy fall of rain was found to lower the temperature of drained land more than undrained, which is evidently an advantage to a cold purchased."

The water subsoiled nearly 30 inches at a light than mechanical subsoiling, and a small portion of black earth with gravel and sand resting on a gravelly, tough subsoil. The subsoil plough which was drawn by two horses carries a wide common plough, and the ground to the depth of twelve or fourteen inches. The week counter the land so detected as subsoiling, for even moderate heat and drought scorched whatever crops were grown, but we found the loss so much ahead, the crops more abundant and less liable to suffer from an atmosphere. The rain water did not pass rapidly away and we ascribed this to the subsoil ploughing shutting up the drains and channels through which the water had descended or matched.

For this explanation we have been over time taken to refer to the intelligent agriculturists, who although not the sole cause against the interests of the farmer, for the more rapid control over the soil. Such, we believe, is the result of the operation mentioned above.

The principle of the soil of continuing the retention of moisture. We were in this part of Ashtown, Ohio, Indiana and we the greatest ideas of success in tillage. When the crop has ripened and the land plants suffer more in dry weather than with smaller pores. This reputation seems to be self evident but it has been frequently disputed as a certain law of philosophy as from that the cut of the water in the pores of soil portion of the drainage of the soil. Now, it cannot be denied that the evaporation of the soil is small in the small capillary tubes. But more it is fully evident in the large pores, namely, that the first small inches of soils compared to other, exhaust fast, the operations and thus prevent the full evaporative power that would otherwise take place. It is said that in digging on a hole in the soil in dry weather, pounding down the excavated earth, and allowing return out to the hole, more moisture is absorbed and retained than in the surrounding ground. This process we have brought to the proof and found its truth amply verified in soils holding something less than their normal quantity of water, but in cases where moisture was redundant it was otherwise.

In the previous plan of draining off flats, forty or fifty years ago, we have undoubted evidence of the powerful action of evaporation. The sled box stone drains of eighteen inches proved an entire failure so far as the removal of the surplus water was concerned. The great law of gravitation being counteracted by capillarity, the effect was determined in a most severe D. Farm.

THE TREATMENT OF SICK ANIMALS

The civilization of the population of this country is that we have no good system of veterinary instruction. Except in the large cities, and, indeed, in most of those it is impossible to find a well educated veterinary surgeon throughout the whole length and breadth of the land, our poor dumb brutes condemned to suffer from diseases generally brought on, but by our own carelessness or neglect, are obliged to bear the full greater suffering of the unfavorable treatment common farriers and quacks, who know much nothing of the mechanism of their bodies. As a natural consequence, violent purgings, frightful blood letting, blisters and rings, are applied without thought and without reason, entailing untold agony to the animal and generally much loss to the owner. Of course, when an animal is sick, any farmer who is ignorant of what should be done ought to secure the best advice within his reach. But he should always return so much control over the treatment as to avoid resort to barbarous remedies unless the unskilled practitioner can convince him that there is good reason for it. Force is a good rule, criminal left to the unguided curative process of nature would come better out of its troubles than if subjected to the operation of mind ignorant of the destruction of its health. With animals with men there is far too much medicine giving, blistering and bleeding, and probably more are killed or permanently injured by these practices than are cured by them. Of course in some desperate cases, they are necessary, but they should always be resorted to with caution, and with much hesitation. In all milder diseases, which result almost invariably from bad air, bad food, filth and neglect, the wisest treatment is the removal of the cause, and the restoration of those simple, natural conditions upon which the return to health and the maintenance of health depend. The purging ball may often be with advantage supplanted by a loosening diet, bleeding, almost invariably by such a diet and by pure air. Warm clothing and thorough attention, will usually do the work of the blister, and do it much better. In all cases of strains, bruises and wounds, water is almost universal remedy, and in lameness, of the cases in which it is thought necessary to send for the local cow doctor or horse doctor, the simple treatment above mentioned will be found not only cheaper but far better in its application and in its effects. —American Agriculturist.
